

JUNIOR LEADERSHIP HOLDS LAST SESSION FOR CLASS OF 2024!

Our last JLC Class Session for this year was held this month. We can't believe that the year has finally come to an end and we will be celebrating all of our students accomplishments in May at Graduation!

The session was held at UPMC Fredrickson Outpatient Center in Mechanicsburg and started off with an Ice Breaker Activity and presentation from Coach Mike Greene of Integrity Works Coaching on Habit 6 & 7: Synergize & Sharpen the Saw. Then the students heard from a panel of representatives from UPMC before learning about College Interviewing from Donovan Lindsay of College Knowledge Foundation.

After a delicious lunch provided by UPMC the students finished out the day with Mock Interviews, a discussion of the program and Ah-Ha's. Thank you to our host sponsor, to our dedicated committee members, and for all of you for following along with the hashtag #JLC2024 class this year. Here's to these amazing group of students and future leaders in our community!

FELLOWS FINDING REASON IN APRIL SESSION

Our Fellows had their April class session at Allen Distribution in Mechanicsburg where they started out with a group of the Fellows presenting about Reason. They highlighted the importance of reality over perception and provided actionable steps to identify the reality of a situation. Rob Pepper with Messiah University presented on Ethical Leadership to show how decisions are shaped by legal boundaries as well as professional guidelines and moral stances. A case study was done on Ethical Leadership with Cara Curtis with the Cumberland County Historical Society on the Carlisle Indian School.

After lunch, the Fellows heard from an Elected Leadership Panel moderated by Jason Maddux with the United Way of Carlisle & Cumberland County. The panel was made up of Jen DeGaetano - Dickinson Township-Official Supervisor, Safronia Perry - Carlisle Borough Government Council, and Sean Shultz - Carlisle Mayor. And that closed out the second to last session with the Class of 2024!

GUEST FACULTY SPOTLIGHT

Dr. Dan Jensen, Harrisburg University of Science & Tech.
 Dan is an independent consultant specializing in strategic planning, leadership, education, and training. He is a member of the Corporate Faculty at Harrisburg University of Science & Technology and is the Course Team Lead for MGMT 560 – Organizational Leadership. Before embarking in a consulting career Dr. Jensen served for over 26 years as an Army National Guard officer ending his military career as an instructor at the U.S. Army War College instructing Strategic Leadership, Strategic Thinking, and other military and leadership related courses.

Cate Mellen, United Way of Carlisle & Cumberland Cty.
 A Carlisle native with more than a decade of experience in nonprofit fundraising and is the Resource Development Director working on the United Way's annual campaign, as well as marketing and community relations. Cate is a graduate of both Carlisle High School and Dickinson College, has served on the Carlisle Borough Council since January 2022, and most recently spent the last 10 years serving as development director and board liaison at the Carlisle Family YMCA, where she helped lead the $10.7 million building renovation and expansion project

Tom Kaden '23, Someone To Tell It To
 Tom is the Co-Founder and Chief Encouragement Officer at Someone To Tell It To. As an INFJ, Tom is among the smallest personality types in the world and is a unique hybrid of a dreamer and a realist. Both help him co-lead Someone To Tell It To in its mission. Tom's deepest passion is to connect with all types of people in a way that makes sense to them.
